A New Era

"The circle suggests strength, wholeness and unity," said Chancellor Robert C. Khayat. As the University of Mississippi faces the 21st century and a sesquicentennial birthday there are many changes coming together to carry us into the next century.

Judy Wall Crump, an assistant professor of journalism, believes that the university has been economically and racially homogenized and has a reputation as an exclusive party school. She feels that Ole Miss is trying to move towards a more diverse environment. One of Chancellor Khayat's goals is to ensure that we are all committed to living in an enlightened professional community.

The focus of college is to give students a strong foothold in an ever-changing world through a degree that guarantees knowledge and preparation. Pam Lawhead, a computer science teacher, feels that the university should "...call our students to the responsibility of life." She also hopes that the university will continue to produce well-rounded, well-educated students through creating a haven of excellence in every area.

Judy Wall Crump said that we have people who are willing to rethink the idea of how we educate, and Chancellor Khayat believes that the pursuit of ideas and the support of lasting values is an additional facet working to take Ole Miss students farther.

Through the hard work of every professor, student and administrator combined with the heart and soul that has always been and will always be the driving force among the Ole Miss community.

We have a great university with a lot of potential said Crump.

"We are limited only by our committment and creativity," said Chancellor Khayat.

STUDENT LIFE

Ole Miss, a home away from home. Greeks, organizations and sports on campus offer students many different ways to get involved and meet people. Even those who stick to the basics meet pals through dorm life and classes.

Whatever niche each person finds, there are always activities on campus and around Oxford to enrich the mind and lighten the soul. Whether reading and savoring coffee on the balcony at Square Books or dancing to the bands in the Grove, the good times shared will burn in our memories well into the 21st century.

OXFORD

Oxford provides a wealth of leisure activities for Ole Miss students. Shopping on the historic town square, dining at Oxford's eclectic cafe's, exploring museums and modern art galleries, and jogging on the city sidewalks are some of the simple pleasures students enjoy. Churches in town welcome students to attend services which are sometimes tailored especially to fit into the collegiate schedule. Volunteerism is encouraged as a way to become involved with Oxford's numerous charitable organizations.

Learning the Language

Most students in language courses at the University of Mississippi are familiar with the language and writing laboratories on campus. Fully equipped with computers and listening devices, the labs allow students the opportunity to hone their skills outside the normal classroom setting.

Union Dining.....
A NEW ERA

The Ole Miss Union received a much needed face lift with the addition of the Aramark corporation. Little Caesar's, Blimpie, and Chick-fil-A, just to mention a few, are part of the menu du jour. The newly renovated Galley allows students to pick up a snack on the way to class. With speedy and amicable service, the Union is more than a dining hall; it is an experience for the palet that is uncomparable to any on campus.

Eating Out

Eating out is one way students unwind and take a break from the pressures of school. University students choose from Oxford's wide variety of specialty restaurants, delis, cafes, and fast food establishments. Many choose to have the numerous free-delivery restaurants deliver their meals to the comfort of their own houses, apartments, or dorm rooms. Whatever their tastes, students will likely find something to suit their appetite around Oxford.

Familiar

Judy Trott

Although many students come to daily contact with these familiar faces, their contributions to the university often go unrecognized. UPD Chief Mike Stewart and Officer Kevin Stark work to keep Ole Miss a safe community. Chances are, if one seeks medical attention, the Student Health Services Dr. Mona Gould will be on call. Dean of Students Judy Trott spends the majority of her day listening to students' concerns. Foreign language students using the language lab have surely looked to Bill West for assistance. These are just a few of the faculty and staff who, each day, help keep the university running smoothly.

Finding a "Home" at Ole Miss

Rula Billeh, a graduate student from Jordan, is a Communication Disorders major. On her experience at the university throughout her undergraduate and graduate years she said, "I love it now . . . my freshman year was horrible!" Billeh resides in Guess Hall.

Lesley Cover, freshman Chemistry major from the Bahamas, feels at home at Ole Miss. "It's a good school - people are friendly - not that much different from home."

Vanita Upadnyay, a citizen of Nepal, transferred to Ole Miss from a Malaysian college. This junior Management Informations Systems major said when asked about her transfer to UM, "I will be able to study in a culturally diverse atmosphere which will be beneficial to me upon entering the business world."

Japanese exchange student Eri Miyagawa says she loves the hospitality at UM. "I would definitely recommend Ole Miss to others," she added. Miyagawa is a senior Economics major who calls Guess Hall home.

Arlene Pereira, Business major from India said about Ole Miss, "It is very different from home - especially the educational system. You'll also never hear anyone at home say "Hey!" to you on the road like they do here." Pereira is currently a graduate student.

The Center for the Study of Southern Culture found a home at Ole Miss in the antebellum Barnard Observatory, which was renovated in 1991 to house the center. There is a conference area in which special programs are held in conjunction with area festivals focusing on people and events that shaped Southern culture.

BLIZZARD'96

As temperatures dropped and icy precipitation began to fall, university students scurried to local supermarkets and convenience stores to stock up on necessities and brace themselves for the blizzard to come. Two to three inches of freezing rain that accumulated as ice covered the university in a sheet of white. Students entertained themselves by sledding, ice skating, and daring to drive the streets with makeshift sleighs dragging behind their automobiles. Classes were dismissed because of the wintery weather, and the university braced itself for the storm.

University Police Department

The University Police Department continually strives to create a safe and stable environment for students, faculty, staff and visitors of Ole Miss. UPD has implemented such systems as Code Blue and the Rebel Patrol to further crime prevention on the university campus. The department is open around the clock in an effort to keep the University of Mississippi a secure place to live and learn.

ART

Students studying fine arts at Ole Miss know first-hand what it means to work overtime. While only counting as standard three hour courses, art classes usually meet for twice that time each week. This is necessary because most are hands-on classes, and additional time is needed to complete assigned projects.

Graduate students often spend substantial time out of class working in the studios on campus. It is not uncommon for students to remain in the studio working on a project an entire night.

Despite the long, tiresome hours, art student's rewards are their completed works and the satisfaction that comes with them.

Making Memories

While the college experience means different things to different people, most would agree that it is a time for making memories that last a lifetime. Friendships that often last throughout the college years and beyond are made in classes, dorms, on the job, and on the town. Ole Miss for many is the starting point for a new life with new friends and experiences.

With honors...

Once again the Ole Miss Concert Singers sustained their reputation of being an outstanding vocal talent. Claiming the Grand Prix title in Tours, France, last year allowed them to advance to the Grand Primio Europeo di Canto Chorale in Arezzo, Italy this year.It was a highly difficult competition, but the singers performed magnificently. The judges deliberated for over an hour-the first place honor would go to either a talented group from Japan or our famed Ole Miss group. The Ole Miss singers placed second in the competition. However, the singers were proud of their performance. Not only did they enjoy the choral competition,but they also were able to experience the historical and cultural aspects of Italy.Cynthia Linton, associate professor of music and head of vocal studies at the University of Mississippi, stated,"This was probably one of the most congenial groups of students and adults.There was just a bond.This group was committed to doing what needed to be done vocally and to having fun."

In 1994, the University began a four year sesquicentennial celebration. During these four years each school will be spotlighted for six months and the celebration will intensify and end in 1998, the 150th anniversary of the University of Mississippi. Each year the Ole Miss Annual tries to offer a contribution to the celebration. This year we would like to offer you a sesquicentennial review of Ole Miss through the annual's eyes.

The annual began publication in 1887 and is still published by students at the university. Every year the annual staff does their best to report the school as it appears to all of the students. We have looked back through the years to see the changing fads, the changing appearances and the changing atmosphere at Ole Miss. We have also tried to note the major achievements of the University and her students.

The following pages are a selection of tidbits pulled from our old annuals. They are meant to provide humor as we laugh at the fads and ideas of the past. They are meant to increase awareness of how much the university has grown in her 150 years and they are meant to open our minds to how we are shaping and should be shaping our future.

1848-1995

A Sesquicenntenial Review

1948-1911

Ole Miss was "yet only a debutante dedicated to the University Greys."

Literary societies were the top interest.

There were three coeds in the senior class of 1996.

1998 was the 50th anniversary of the University of Mississippi.

1900 - Fraternities are here to stay!

1903 saw the creation of the School of Medicine.

In 1905 the yearbook staff revealed some unusual "facts"...

"The following have been unearthed with great difficulty through the course of several years by our official reporters, and are now for the first time given to public record:

ΔΨ: 'We send forth hot air.'
ΦΚΨ: 'Let us also be worthy liars.'
ΣΧ: 'Let us squezze the cash.'
ΔΔΔ: 'We are able to do stunts.'
ΚΑ: 'We proclaim our innocence.'

L is for library, note-taking and strife,
Where if you whisper you run for your life.
U is for U of M in learning she leads it,
Here's life unto her! God bless her, she needs it!

In 1910, the senior law class offered up some "immortal maxims of the law":

"He who comes into 'Equity' must come with warm feet. As brevity is the soul of whit, never be brief. Your answers to his honors questions are always presumed to be inadequate. The prayer of the indolent availeth nothing. Ignorance of the law excuses no one from practicing.

In 1911, the new library was near completion.

The women's basketball team played in skirts that came to about 2" above their ankles.

1912 - 1925

Fraternities are banned from campus in 1912.

The 1913 annual showed faculty members with their heads cut off and pasted over drawings of animals.

In 1914 it was predicted that the world would explode if ..."the glee club ever learns how to sing...or, Dr. Riley ever gives an easy exam, ...or a freshman ever fails to be ignorant."

Trigonometry: "A Chinese puzzle for freshmen."
Ancient History: "Yesterday"

Coed basketball was played in panataloons.

The 1818 yearbook featured an entire section on military due to World War I, and the deaths of two members of the senior class.

R.J. Farley was the Editor-in-Chief of the Ole Miss Annual.

Bondurant was on staff.

THERE WERE ONLY THREE CHEERLEADERS IN 1920 AND THEY WERE ALL MALE.

The Kappa Sigmas were "such a hopeful little band believing in Santa Claus. It is rumored that, if they are real good, dear old Saint Nick will leave them some bricks and some cement in their stockings...with which to build a playhouse where they can hide some of their men during rush week."

In 1932 a futuristic story predicted that Sue would be tuning in to a class being broadcast from 50 miles away by 1950.

Cheerleaders skirts reach their ankles in 1933, and men were worried about "gold-diggers"!

In 1935 the Grove gets its name.

As always...Freshman stunt night was filled with guys in gowns.

In 1939 success was a $200 a month job.

1941 - 1955

The ROTC went to Fort McClellan, Alabama for six weeks in 1941 to learn the art of ditch digging.

There was a bald-head section at the football games.

In 1942 there were rallying cries to "Remember Pearl Harbor."

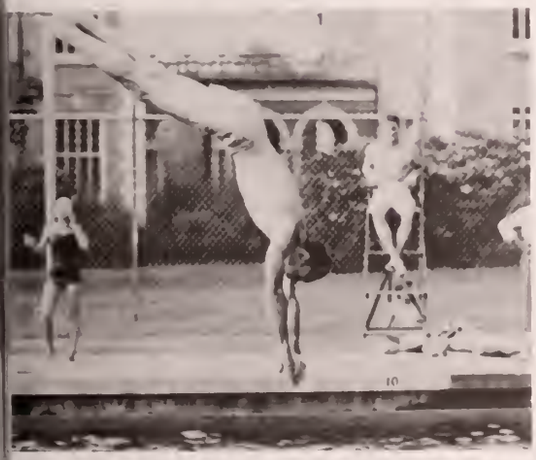

"Came up to set the world on fire...found it already on fire."

The University was living through its fourth war.

DRAMA

The 1994-95 Theatre season featured a wide variety of offerings. The year began with Terence McNally's Award Winning play,Lips Together, Teeth Apart. The Homecoming musical, Mack and Mabel featured performances by third year graduate actor Katie Witt and University employee, Michael Newton in the title roles. The Dance Company presented its annual concert, titled Coming Out of the Dark featuring the celebrated choreography of Assistant Professor of Dance, Jennifer Mizenko. The Dance Company includes the talents of over a dozen of the finest modern dancers in the state of Mississippi. The spring semester saw University Theatre undertake the classic Anton Chekov play,The Seagull. Directed by Professor Scott McCoy, The Seagull featured strong performances by undergraduate actors Rachel Harris and Kyle Barnett and Assistant Professor of Voice, Elizabeth Wiley. The season was rounded out with the always popular Showstoppers. Titled Not Quite Broadway, Showstoppers featured selections from well-known musicals that enjoyed great success Off-Broadway but never made it to the Great White Way. In addition to these fine offerings, they also provided graduate directing projects Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead, and Death and the Maiden. With this many shows, its no wonder they're all so busy!

DESIGNATED DRIVER

A new sight was seen on campus this year — the Callahan shuttle bus. Denny Bubrig, Leslie Hardy, and Miles Russell initiated this pilot program to promote safety. With the help of James Callahan, the owner of the bus, these three students launched this successful new program in response to research of D.U.I. statistics from the Spring of 1995. A bonus to the shuttle program is that only 38% of the students on campus have transportation. The shuttle runs Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and it goes throughout campus picking up and dropping off students. It then runs to the mall, the square, and bars in Oxford. However, one might convince Mr. Callahan into traveling off route. Only a dollar each way will get you home safe! Trevor Landry, broadcast journalism, said, "I think its a great idea because when I am on the road I like to know that people who are drinking aren't driving." The students also enjoy the ride. "Its almost as much fun as the bar!" replies Kate Curtis, pre-med.

ADMINISTRATIONS

The new school year brought about several noteworthy changes in university administrations including a very important change in the office of the Chancellor. Robert C. Khayat was named the 25th chancellor of the University of Mississippi after former chancellor Gerald Turner's resignation.

Chancellor Khayat isn't new to Ole Miss, he began his career here in 1969 and has since held various administrative positions. As the university steps toward the 21st century, Chancellor Khayat promises to lead the way toward an enlightened professional community.

GOVERNOR
Kirk Fordice

KIRK FORDICE, prior to his election as Governor, lived in Vicksburg, Mississippi, for more than 30 years. He earned a bachelors degree in civil engineering in 1956 and a master's degree in industrial management in 1957 from Purdue University. He was a member of Tau Beta Pi, the engineering honorary society, and Chi Epsilon, the civil engineering honorary society. Following graduation he served two years active duty as an engineer officer in the U.S. Army. In 1977, at age 43, he retired from the Army Reserve at the rank of colonel.

Before his election as Governor, he was a professional engineer and president of Fordice Construction Company, which specializes in heavy construction and highway bridge construction. He is past president of the Associated General Contractors, whose 32,000 member companies represent 3.5 million employees, making it the largest trade association in the construction industry. While president, he was recognized by the Minority Contractors Association for the work he did to improve the relations between the two associations.

Living up to his businessman-governor reputation Governor Fordice has successfully supported fiscally responsible legislation that allows the State budget only 98% of its projected revenues and establishes a rainy day fund to avoid budget cuts. He also assured passage of one of the countrys most sweeping civil justice reform measures, an elimination of capitol gains taxation on Mississippi investments, a $0 to $9.5 million increase in tourism funding for the State, aggressive prison building program, and Mississippi's first-ever comprehensive welfare reform legislation. Since beginning his hands-on, "CEO to CEO" approach to industry recruitment three years ago, 130,000 net new jobs have been created in the State of Mississippi — one of the largest increases in recent history. At the same time, Kirk Fordice has doubled the amount of capitol investment in Mississippi by approximately $2.7 billlion. While creating private sector jobs, budgets show that Governor Fordice has halted government bureaucracy by systematically cutting out almost 2000 state government positions and eliminating agency waste at a savings of more than $50 million to the people of Mississippi. In 1994, the Washington, D.C. based Cato Institute recognized Governor Fordice as one of only three governors in the nation to receive an A grade for fiscal policy. Governor Fordice is Chairman of the Southern Growth Policies Board and immediate past Chairman of the Southern Governors Association.

Governor Fordice and his wife, the former Particia Owens, have four children and seven grandchildren. They have been active in the Crawford Street United Methodist Church, in Vicksburg, Mississippi for many years.

1995-1996 BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Mississippi Board of Trustees of the Institutions of Higher Learning was established to remove political interference from the administration of statewide higher education. The members are appointed by the Governor to twelve year staggered terms, thus preventing any one group of political appointees from gaining control of the board.
Mississippi has eight state universities — Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Southern Mississippi, Jackson State, Alcorn, Mississippi Valley, Delta State, and Mississippi University for Women. With increases in both the student and the faculty enrollment, the Board of Trustees, cannot do everything for everyone in higher learning. Therefore, the Board has established leadership roles for areas in which the state institutions concentrate.
Ole Miss currently has leadership roles in social sciences, journalism, law, foreign langnages, pharmacy, community, and regional planning, math, art, public affairs, letters, and physical science. The function of the Board is to make decisions that will improve the institutions of higher learning. Despite the budgetary problems of the state, the Board has proved vital to the future of the states higher education and the future of the state of Mississippi.

CHANCELLOR

Robert Khayat

Robert C. Khayat received his undergraduate and law degree from The University of Mississippi. Later, as a Sterling Fellow in Law, he received the LL.M. Degree from Yale University.

Chancellor Khayat began his career at The University of Mississippi in 1969 as Professor of Law. He has also served as Associate Dean of the Law School, Vice Chancellor for University Affairs, Executive Director of the Sesquicentennial Celebration, and Interim Director of Athletics prior to becoming Chancellor at Ole Miss in July, 1995. He was named Outstanding Law Professor for 1993-94, and in 1994, members of the Mississippi Law Journal endowed a scholarship in his honor. Dr. Khayat was President of the NCAA Foundation from 1989-1992 and has been a practicing attorney and municipal judge.

An Academic All-American in football, Dr. Khayat has demonstrated that leadership as a student athlete can provide the foundation for future success.

Active in professional and civic affairs, Dr. Khayat has served as President of the Chamber of Commerce and as a member of the Mississippi Bar Foundation. He currently serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the institute for Technology Development and the Mississippi Valley Title Insurance Company.

ACCOUNTANCY

The School of Accountancy was created in 1979, but majors in accounting at Ole Miss were offered as early as 1929. Majors in accountancy were offered through the department of accountancy in the business school after the department was established in 1937. The school is one of few truly separate schools of accountancy in the country. The School awards the Bachelor of Accountancy after four years and either the Master of Accountancy or the Master of Taxation after the fifth year. The program is fully accredited at both levels. Graduates of the program are very well prepared for jobs in CPA firms, industry, government, or education as well as for professional certification.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Established in 1917, the School of Business Administration is committed to its vision of becoming a nationally respected professional center of education and research in which faculty, students, and the business community join together in an active learning partnership. The school's dedication to its mission and values compel it to provide its students with a broad-based education, including a solid foundation in business administration, and the development of a full range of skills and leadership competencies.

The School values the application of advanced information technology in all teaching and research activities as well as the creation of an innovative learning environment rich in diversity, creativity, teamwork, and high ethical standards. Comprehensive programs in finance, economics, general business, insurance, international business, management, marketing, management information systems, real estate, journalism and advertising, and petroleum land management enable students to attain a strong education in their chosen field.

EDUCATION

Created in 1903, the School of Education is dedicated to the preparation of people for effective leadership and service in school, home, and community. The mission of the school is to prepare skilled professionals who positively and effectively interact with all people regardless of race, culture, gender, age, ability and/or development level. The School of Education prepares leaders in the areas of teaching, exercise science, leisure management, fashion merchandising, dietetics and food service management.

ENGINEERING

The University of Mississippi Engineering School was founded in 1854. Headed by Dean Allie M. Smith, the Ole Miss School of Engineering is presently the oldest school of its kind in the state and this southern territory. Comprised of six academic departments, the programs offered stress the engineering sciences and are based on natural sciences and mathematical concepts. Advancing student career objectives such as medicine, law, or business, the Engineering School has produced many of the nations leaders.

GRADUATE

Although the first graduate courses were offered in 1848, the Graduate School at the University of Mississippi was officially established in 1927. Graduate courses leading to a Master's degree were offered beginning in 1870, and the first Ph.D. was awarded in 1893. The Graduate School coordinates the degree work of over 1,700 students and the research of over 400 faculty. Graduate programs are offered in 21 M.A. disciplines, 11 M.B. disciplines, 7 designated Master's programs (e.g. MBA), three areas of specialization within Education (M.Ed.), and two specialist degrees. The Graduate School offers doctorates in 21 disciplines, including six areas of specialization within Engineering Science.

The University of Mississippi's sponsored research efforts have grown 318% from $7.7 million to over $32 million in the past seven years, a key indication of the institution's maturation in quality research. In 1991, for the first time in its history, The University of Mississippi graduate over 100 doctorates and surpassed $20 million in sponsored research funding.

The Graduate School is located in the Old Chemistry Building, and Michael R. Dingerson is the current and seventh Dean.

LAW

The University of Mississippi School of Law is the fourth oldest state-supported law school in the nation. It is fully approved by the American Bar Association and is a long-standing member of the Association of American Law Schools. Recognized for the teaching excellence of its faculty, the School of Law offers an inclusive program of legal education stressing interaction between faculty and students.

Lamar Hall, which houses the University of Mississippi Law Center, is one of the best designed and equipped law teaching and research facilities in the country. A unique feature is the moot court area, containing two fully equipped courtrooms, witness and jury rooms, judge's chambers, and a videotape viewing room. Designed to meet legal education needs into the next century, Lamar Hall is an impressive facility in which all Mississippians can take pride.

LIBERAL ARTS

Founded in 1848 with only four professors, the College of Liberal Arts is the oldest and largest division of the University. It offers a broad and comprehensive course of study including most areas of knowledge in the humanities, the fine arts, and the biological, physical, and social sciences. Students seeking a general education may acquire intellectual and civic competition; lay the broad foundation needed for specialized training in law, medicine, theology, and other professional fields; and prepare themselves for advanced study, research, and teaching in the humanities, fine arts, and sciences.

PHARMACY

The School of Pharmacy, established in 1908, is recognized among the finest pharmacy education institutions in the country. With world class programs in natural products, chemistry, and pharmaceutical marketing, the school has established an outstanding record of achievement in teaching, research, service, and patient care. The professional degree program and the Doctor of Pharmacy degree prepare students for challenging careers in pharmacy practice. Recent program additions include the new Bachelor of Science in Pharmaceutical Sciences and entry-level Doctor of Pharmacy degree as well as the long-standing Master of Science in Pharmaceutical Sciences and the Doctor of Philosophy Degrees. Professional program students are prepared for challenging careers as practitioners in therapeutics management, patient counseling, and medication utilization evaluation. Pharmacists practice in various specialty environments including institutional, geriatrics, pediatrics, medicine, psychopharmacy, nutritional support, ambulatory care, community pharmacy, long term care, and other emerging areas. In addition to traditional pharmacy practice environments, Graduates find opportunities in various sectors of the pharmaceutical industry, governmental agencies and academia. Pharmacy offers diverse career opportunities in science research, management, marketing, administration, teaching, service, and patient care.

In Memory Of

Dr. Larry DeBord

Yearbooks are time capsules that preserve the wacky fashions of the day, faded romances that we thought could never die, and the laughter shared between good friends. They remind us of carefree days when our dreams were bigger than we were and our convictions could not be compromised. They also hold the smiling faces of the people who dedicated themselves to our educations and our futures — the people who, if only for a semester, made us use our brains and question the world around us. One of those people was Dr. Larry DeBord, Chair and Professor of Sociology.

Larry DeBord was originally from Detroit, Michigan. He graduated from Lifelong Park High School in 1955 and went on to get his bachelor of arts degree in social science from Morehead State University in 1959. He obtained his masters in educational administration from Morehead in 1962. Larry DeBord successfully completed his educational journey in 1969 when he officially became a doctor. He received his Ph.D. in sociology from Vanderbilt University.

Dr. DeBord put his heart and soul into everything he did. He was positive and friendly. He was a strong leader of the university. Chancellor Khayat referred to him as "a bright, sensitive, loyal leader in the university community." Dr. DeBord also had a life before Ole Miss. From 1962 to 1965 he was Assistant Professor of Sociology at State University College in Buffalo, N.Y. After that, he had an Assistant Professorship in Sociology at Western Kentucky University from 1967-68. From 1968 until he came to Ole Miss, he was Assistant Professor of Sociology at George Peabody College in Nashville. He began his career at Ole Miss on September 1, 1970. This school year was to be his twenty-fifth.

Dr. DeBord was personable in the classroom and turned lectures into enjoyable afternoons of stimulating conversation. He knew the material he taught and had a talent for teaching it. The Sociology department will never be the same and neither will this campus. There is a silence where a warm and hearty hello used to be. There is an absence that replaces an old familiar face. There is a sleepy classroom that once thrived on the buzz of eager students and the scraping sounds of chalk against a dusty blackboard. There is a hollow breeze that pushes its way down the musty halls of Bondurant. But if we listen with a tender ear, we just might hear the echoes of a man who devoted so much of himself to the integrity of his work and to the love of his family and friends. Then, suddenly, those cold halls will feel warm again.

CLASSES

Whether fresh from high school or coming back to tackle college after the real world, classes are the focus of life in college. The University offers a variety of majors and classes that prepare students for a quickly changing future in the 21st century. Graduation seems like a distant glimmer on the horizon until your final senior year when all those years of studying and partying are just a tear of memories as you take hold of your diploma and step out into the world.

DISTINCTION

Every student at Ole Miss is special, yet some are marked with honor. The people who give a little more, make a change and strengthen others around them are the faces that grace the honors programs or are chosen to represent the student body. Students who lead at Ole Miss are the men and women who will lead the world into the 21st century.

Who's Who and Hall of Fame

To be chosen as a member of Who's Who Among American College Students is a great honor. From over two hundred applicants only eighty-three were chosen from the University of Mississippi. Being included in this group takes not only having intellectual ability, but being able to handle volunteer work and extra curricular activities. The nominees were scored on many areas of their academic and extracurricular life. After the eighty-three were chosen, the Hall of Fame Members were selected. These eight new members exemplify exceptional all around students. The leadership, and solid fundamentals these eight students have really show the spirit of Ole Miss and deserve the great honor of being included in this year's Hall of Fame.

Kappa Kappa Psi

The Beta Chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, a National Honorary Band Fraternity, was founded on the Ole Miss campus in 1948. Being the 50th chapter founded, it has the distinciton of being known nationally as the "Golden Chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi." United through fraternal brotherhood, members work for the betterment of band through service and selection of worthwhile projects.

As a fulfillment for the societies objective of increasing the awareness of the ethical and social responsibilities of the profession, the Chi chapter holds and annual "Talk About Prescriptions Day" on campus to illustrate the pharmacists role in patient counseling. This year, Dr. Alice M. Clark was selected as the 1996 Rho Chi leeturer of the year.

This year's offieers were: Leigh Vandiver - Oxford Campus President

Lambda Sigma

The University of Mississippi's Iota chapter of the Lambda Sigma Society is dedicated to promoting the ideals of leadership, scholarship, fellowship and a spirit of service among college students. The organization performs many different service projects and also assists other charity organizations for the University and the surrounding community. Also, its members are entertained by many outstanding motivational speakers throughout the year. Lambda Sigma's members consist of sophomores who were chosen during the spring semester of their freshman year. Membership requires a 3.5 gradepoint average, and also evidence of outstanding past leadership skills and service works.

President: Houston Graves; Vice President: Mark Eubanks; Secretary: Nicola Makey; Treasurer: Kellan Ashley

Mortar Board

Established as a national women's honor society, Mortar Board is one of the highest senior honor groups for both men and women. Tassels, the local chapter, has been active on the Ole Miss campus since its founding in 1930. With a 40 member limit, Mortar Board selects members based on leadership, scholarship of at least a 3.0 GPA, and service. Mortar Board is an organization that challenges the individual to provide thoughtful leadership to the campus and community, to create an environment of effective communication, and to move toward the improvement of the status of men and women.

Ole Miss Pre-Law Society

The Ole Miss Pre-Law Society, an honorary group formed at the University of Mississippi in the spring of 1990 was established to aid students in their quest to become legal professionals. The society acts as an information clearinghouse for students wishing to pursue legal studies at the graduate level. The society provides information on applying to law schools, on LSAT test preparation and scheduling and enhances the professionalism of its members. In addition, the society sponsors speakers from different areas of law: law students, law school officials, and practicing professionals.

The Mississippi Alpha Chapter of the Pi Mu Epsilon Mathematics Honorary was granted its chapter at the University of Mississippi in 1968. It was the 136th chapter to be chartered nationally and was the first of three chapters to be charted in the state of Mississippi. Pi Mu Epsilon is a non-secret organization whose purpose is the promotion of scholarly activity in mathematics among students in academic institutions. It aims to do this by

1. electing members on an honorary basis according to their proficiency inmathematics.
2. by engaging in activities designed to promote the mathematical and scholarly development of its members, and
3. by taking any other measures that will further the purpose stated above.

Mississippi Alpha promotes faculty/student relations and intellectual growth through various functions during the school year such as periodic mathematical lectures and social gatherings.

Dr. Judy Trott

Omicron Delta Kappa; founded December 3, 1914, at Washington and Lee University; places emphasis upon the whole person, both as a present member of his college community and as a prospective contributor to a better society. The Society believes that while good scholarship and intellectual development as the chief objectives of college years, the life of the mind is not the only life students will have to cope with as a result of their college experience. It is not enough to be merely a "scholar"- other indispensable qualities have to be cultivated also. Students and faculty members have to more clearly understand the the self is truly a composite of the hand, heart, and the spirit as well as the mind. Omicron Delta Kappa believes that the real search for truth, the promotion of good will, the development of consideration and understanding good taste and sense of humor, learning how to get along and cooperate with others and the assumptions of duty and responsibility, are important lessons and personal qualities which one learns and develops through an integrated program of academic and extracurricular education. Members of Omicron Delta Kappa are selected in areas of achievement in scholarship, athletics or other campus or community service, social and religious activities and campus government journalism, speech and the mass media and the creative and performing arts.

Chi Epsilon is a national honor society for civil engineering students with over 100 chapters. The Ole Miss Chapter was founded in 1937 as the 14th chapter in the United States and the first in the South. The objectives of the Ole Miss Chapter are to maintain and promote the status of Civil Engineering as an ideal profession at the University of Mississippi, to bestow honor upon Civil Engineering juniors, seniors and graduate students who have demonstrated exceptional scholarship and to develop the qualities of character, practility and sociability in each member of the chapter. In order to carry out these objectives the Chapter provides a number of services such as organizing an FE review course, providing free tutoring to other civil engineering students, presenting awards to the outstanding freshman and senior civil engineering students, organizing and providing funds for field trips, writing a newsletter for alumni, setting up displays and projects for Career Day and assisting in engineering high school programs such as a statewide high school engineering model contest and mathcounts. To foster sociability, members participate in pizza parties, bowling outings, etc.

Hackett, Not Pictured, Raj Shekharan

The Purpose of the Ole Miss Student Chapter of ASCE is to provide civil engineering students various opportunities to develop relationships with fellow students, faculty and professionals that will last a lifetime. It is imperative that civil engineering students, who will become future engineers, find out what it takes to excel as civil engineers in the real world. The ASCE Student is the best channel through which these goals can be accomplished. In order to implement these objectives a variety of activities take place. Meetings are held twice a month in which practicing engineers give presentations on their work and interact with the students. Field trips to nearby construction projects and other civil engineering related projects are informative and fun activities.

Phi Kappa Phi

The National Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, founded in 1897, was originated by a group of students who felt the need to recognize scholarship in all disciplines. The society was soon transformed into a national organization by action of a committee composed of the presidents of the University of Maine, the University of Tennessee, and Pennsylvania State College.

The University of Mississippi Chapter was charted in May 1959 as the 77th chapter of Phi Kappa Phi. Today, there are approximately 250 chapters in the 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines.

To qualify for membership, undergraduates must be seniors or second semester juniors with high standards of scholarship and character. Graduate students and students in professional schools must have distinguished records placing them among the ablest in their classes. Faculty members must have made significant contributions to their disciplines.

The Society of Phi Kappa Phi has adopted three symbols as visual elements of its commitment to learning. The seal of the society has as its center the badge. The badge is a globe against the background of the sun whose rays radiate in symmetrical and equal concentrations, signifying equivalence among the branches of learning and representing the dissemination of truth as light. The encircling band containing the Greek letters Phi Kappa Phi symbolizes the bond which guides the earth to bind lovers of wisdom.

The crenelated line surrounding the badge represents the walls of Troy and highlights the technological aspects of ancient Greek culture in addition to characterizing the interdisciplinary aspect of the society. The three stars stand for the three original chapters.

The ribbon of the society is a meander pattern common in ancient Greek art which symbolizes the classical features of the society.

ORGANIZATION

Getting involved in campus organizations has become a popular trend at the University of Mississippi. Students have come to enjoy the opportunity for interaction with others who share their interests and goals. The reasons for interest in organizations range from meeting new friends to taking action on important issues. Whatever the motivation for involvement, student organizations have contributed greatly to the high quality of life enjoyed by students at Ole Miss.

All THE DAILY MISSISSIPPIAN Around

The Daily Mississippian publishes a daily circulation of 11,500 Monday through Friday and is funded through advertising and student fees. The newspaper's staff is composed of Ole Miss students who report the news, edit copy, write headlines, design pages and develop and print photos. Students who work at the DM gain valuable knowledge in state-of-the-art desktop publishing. The DM is the only student-run daily college newspaper in the state, as well as being the only college newspaper that is a member of the Mississippi Press Association. Annually, the DM competes with professional newspapers state-wide, winning awards in a variety of categories. Since 1911, the DM has been a source of news for the students of Ole Miss and the Oxford community. In 1962, the paper became a daily. Printed in Farley Hall, the paper is usually available to students by 8 a.m. in most campus buildings and in many local buildings.

ADVERTISING STAFF

Around

The Advertising Staff of the Daily Mississippian consists of a sales staff and a production staff. Both of these gronps functions together as unit, but separate from the editorial staff of th2e DM. The advertising staff of the Mississippian serves both the University and the Oxford/Lafayette County area by providing a way to reach the students in their environments. The sales and production staffs work together to create advertising that is both effective and attractive.

The students who make up these staffs are full-time students with a full-time commitment to their jobs. There is a lot of work involved in the advertisments that go into the Mississippian, and the students on the staff do all of it. These students gain great experience and knowledge through their work with the advertising department of the Daily Mississippian. The knowledge and experience gained here will help them in their future jobs outside of school whether it be in advertising or not.

1996 Vice President

The 1996 ASB Vice President, Rich Johnson, is charged with the responsibility as President of the most active branch of the ASB, the Student Body Senate. This lawmaking body of the ASB is similar to that of the state legislature in which the Lieutenant Governor acts as President of the Mississippi Senate. As Vice President of the Associated Student Body, Johnson presides over 56 senators from various post both on and off campus. In his four years at Ole Miss, Rich has served as President of the Greek Council, and his Fraternity Scholarship Foundation. He was elected 1995 Campus Favorite, is a member of Who's Who, and also served in the United States Navy for four years. Rich is a Broadcast Journalism major from New Orleans, La, and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

1996 ASB Secretary

Cindy Dantone, an accountancy major from Greenville, MS, serves as the secretary to the Associated Student Body. The job of the ASB Secretary fulfills many roles in the Executive Branch. The ASB secretary is available for all ASB officers and Cabinet members to aid them in any clerical work that is needed. It is the secretary's duty to keep a calendar of events for all ASB meetings and activities. The secretary also serves as office manager of the ASB office insuring that it is fully staffed. This is to make sure that there is always someone in the office to answer any questions that might arise for students. In addition, the secretary is a member of the Presidential Cabinet and takes the minutes.

STUDENT BODY SENATE

Around

The ASB Vice President, Rich Johnson, presides over the most active and visible branch of student government, the ASB Senate. This governing body is made up of 56 senators from various districts both on and off campus. It serves as the lawmaking body of the ASB and is where students get the opportunity to change aspects of the University of Mississippi that needs improvement. This is done through legislation drafted by respective senators elected by the students of his or her own districts. The ASB senate is modeled after the United States Constitution and is set up similiar to that of the Mississippi State Legislature in which the Lieutanent Governor serves as President of the State Senate. With a two-third majority vote, the student body senate is the sole body that has the power to override a Presidential veto.

Executive Senators

The Vice-President of the Associated Student Body has the power to appoint a nine member Executive Council that serves as the highest ranking committee within the Senate. The Council is put into place to aid freshmen senators in understanding the rules, regulations and the proper Parliamentary procedure guidelines needed to understand the different aspects of Senate Legislation. The Council is responsible for insuring that pieces of legislation go through the proper chain of command ending on the desk of the Chancellor.

BLACK STUDENT UNION

Around

The University of Mississippi Black Student Union serves as a political, social, and educational outlet for all students, particularly African-Americans. It is the belief of the Black Student Union that diversity in our campus organizations and total student body is a prerequisite for progress. As we begin to integrate more black students into the mainstream of our university, we can eradicate the negative stereotypes that haunt this great university in the area of racial harmony and equality. It is the opinion of the BSU that the University of Mississippi is the flagship institution of higher learning across our state. As we commence our assimilation into the student body, we can effectively unify all students thus enhancing our university as a whole.

All KAPPA PSI

The Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity is a professional fraternity for pharmacy students. The fraternity was founded in 1879 but was not established at Ole Miss until 1926. Kappa Psi has roots in the medical community, but was split off to the fraternity as we know it today. Beta Rho is the chapter of Kappa Psi here at Ole Miss and is one of the strongest chapters in the south. Kappa Psi has both male and female members aboard, but the Beta Rho chapter is all male. Our fraternity has many different functions and areas of service to both our university and our community. The Beta Rho chapter is active in many community services projects such as Adopt-A-Highway and Adopt-A-Friend. The fraternity also has a rich heritage of leadership and scholastic achievement. Kappa Psi is also an active participant in intramural activities. The fraternity was founded on four principles: fellowship, sobriety, industry, and high ideals. The Beta Rho chapter is proud of its accomplishment and strives to promote the profession of pharmacy.

INTERHALL COUNCIL

Around

The InterHall Council (IHC) is a link that connects students in residence life to on campus events and sponsors co-programming throughout the year. At Ole Miss, each residence hall elects a representative to IHC and that representative attends weekly meetings. Therefore, each residence hall is an active part of IHC. During the fall semester 1995, IHC sponsored Carpet Sales in front of Martin Stockard Hall and the Women's Terrace; Welcome Kits for all freshman students, the Exam Kits for all students, the Ole Miss vs. Tulane pep rally, our Homecoming float that placed 1st the last three years, and the "End of the year blowout" party. These are only a few of the many fun activities we planned for the students. Since Spring Break only lasts one week, IHC plans a whole week, full of fun activities and free food, to make your spring break a little longer. We like to call it Spring Break II, and it's held the week after Spring Break. IHC also takes pride in all their members, so we have an induction ceremony for the elected officers at each residence hall.

ASSOCIATED GRADUATE STUDENT BODY

Around

The Associated Graduate Student Body (AGSB) works with faculty, administrators, and other student organizations to provide Ole Miss graduate students with opportunities for professional development. This year those opportunities included grant proposal writing workshops and a national teleconference on the future of graduate education. Monthly mixers also enable graduate students to meet colleagues from other areas of the university. By addressing common concerns of our membership, the AGSB strives to eliminate much of the unnecessary stress often associated with graduate student life.

STUDENT PROGRAMMING BOARD

Around

The University of Mississippi Student Programming Board is the major programming body of the University. The Board is composed of two elected officers, a Board of Directors, and numerous committee members. There are eight committees to serve on, with membership ranging from twenty to fifty members on each committee. The main goal of the Student Programming Board is to provide the highest quality activities and entertainment at the lowest cost to the students of Ole Miss. The SPB is a great way to get involved with campus activities and their production. Committee member selection is done by an application process. Any Ole Miss student is eligible and encouraged to apply. Members are selected each semester, and interested students should inquire at the Student Programming Board office in the Ole Miss Union.

Committees include special interest areas in promotion, trips and tours. SPB also sponsors pageants including Parade of Beauties and the Miss University Scholarship Pageant, a preliminary to the Miss Mississippi Pageant. SPB sponsors Homecoming Week, Red and Blue Week, and College Quiz Bowl through the Multi-Day Events Committee and the Christmas Crafts Fair, Funflicks, and other novelty entertainment through the Single-Day Events Committee. Diversity Programming is also a part of SPB programming with events such as Diversity Week and special interest programs for activities such as Black History Month and Aids Awareness. Concerts, comedians, and the production of their shows are covered by the Concert Committee and the Production Committee. Recent acts have showcased B.B. King, Widespread Panic, Chris Rock, Carrot Top, and The Allman Brothers Band.

There are many advantages to being a member of SPB. It is a great way to make new friends and the students work with a wide variety of people. As a member you have a voice in campus activities while gaining valuable experience. SPB works with several departments and other organizations on campus. The Student Programming Board is an organization funded by the students, run by the students, for the benefit of the students.

THE PRIDE OF THE SOUTH BAND

Around

The Pride of the South is the center of school spirit at the University of Mississippi. Enrollment of the band is comprised of students from nearly every major offered on campus. These students enjoy pursuing excellence while serving the University of Mississippi. Throughout its long history, the band has performed both nationally and internationally. In addition to performances at National Football League and NCAA games, the band has performed in Belgium, Holland, England, and Ireland. The UM Wind Ensemble tours schools and communities within the tri-state area each spring.

Bring In The Band Before the 1995 game against Alabama, the Ole Miss band exploded from the Lyceum in a sea of red, wearing the newest set of uniforms since the '70's.

Meastro... Drum Major Mel Morse put his heart and soul into leading the Pride of the South during the 1995 fall semester.

The choir began in the early seventies with the Black Student Union Choir as its name. Through the years, the choir has undergone a name change, and is currently known as the University of Mississippi Gospel Choir. To date we have approximately 40 members and are under the direction of Ms. Shairease Faulkner. The purpose of the choir is still much the same as it was then, which is to promote spiritual growth and to provide the students with a place that they can call home. It continues to serve as a place to share heavy burdens with others struggling for the same cause. It is also a place to find sisterhood and brotherhood for those of us far from home. But, to us all, the choir serves as a meeting ground where we, the members, find peace and joy; and where all students are welcome to come together to magnify the name of the Lord!

The University of Mississippi Modeling Board, under the department of Family & Consumer Sciences, was founded at Ole Miss in 1974. The UMMB is under the direction of Kecia Long and is a group of students that has been selected to represent the university in a unique "fashion". The board not only represents Ole Miss students in the high profile fashion industry, but also strives to serve a prominant role in both university and community. The UMMB is a highly diversified group of students and encourages diversified activities. The UMMB donates its time to projects free of charge and welcomes any and all opportunities to participate in local state and national activities. The UMMB is an exciting organization for those who enjoy interaction with large groups in a fast paced, high profile environment.

BLACK GRADUATE & PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION

Around

The Black Graduate and Professional Student Association was founded in 1988 by men and women who saw value in the unification of those graduates seeking the common goal of higher education. Through progressiveness and solidarity we stand as representatives of positivity and achievement. Thus we proudly adorn the motto, "The Black Graduate and Professional Student Association: An exhibition of excellence." It symbolizes the committment and dedication of the BGPSA members toward masters degrees, law degrees, and Ph. D.'s.

The BGPSA serves as a medium for developing the leadership potential and ability of its members. We network to create an environment for the African-American graduate student that will promote both the enhancement of professionalism and the advancement of our economic status as effective tools in the furtherment of our race.

The BGPSA promised and delivered a dynamic and progressive year. Among the various social and academic activities planned were a host of seminars and workshops. These intensive sessions were designed in collaboration with administration to assist in the financial, professional, personal, psychological, and academic support and well-being of the BGPSA members.

Some of the seminars presented were:

1. Strategies for Successful Matriculation of Minority Graduate Students/ How to Survive
2. Stress Management Workshop
3. Networking and Graduate Student Success

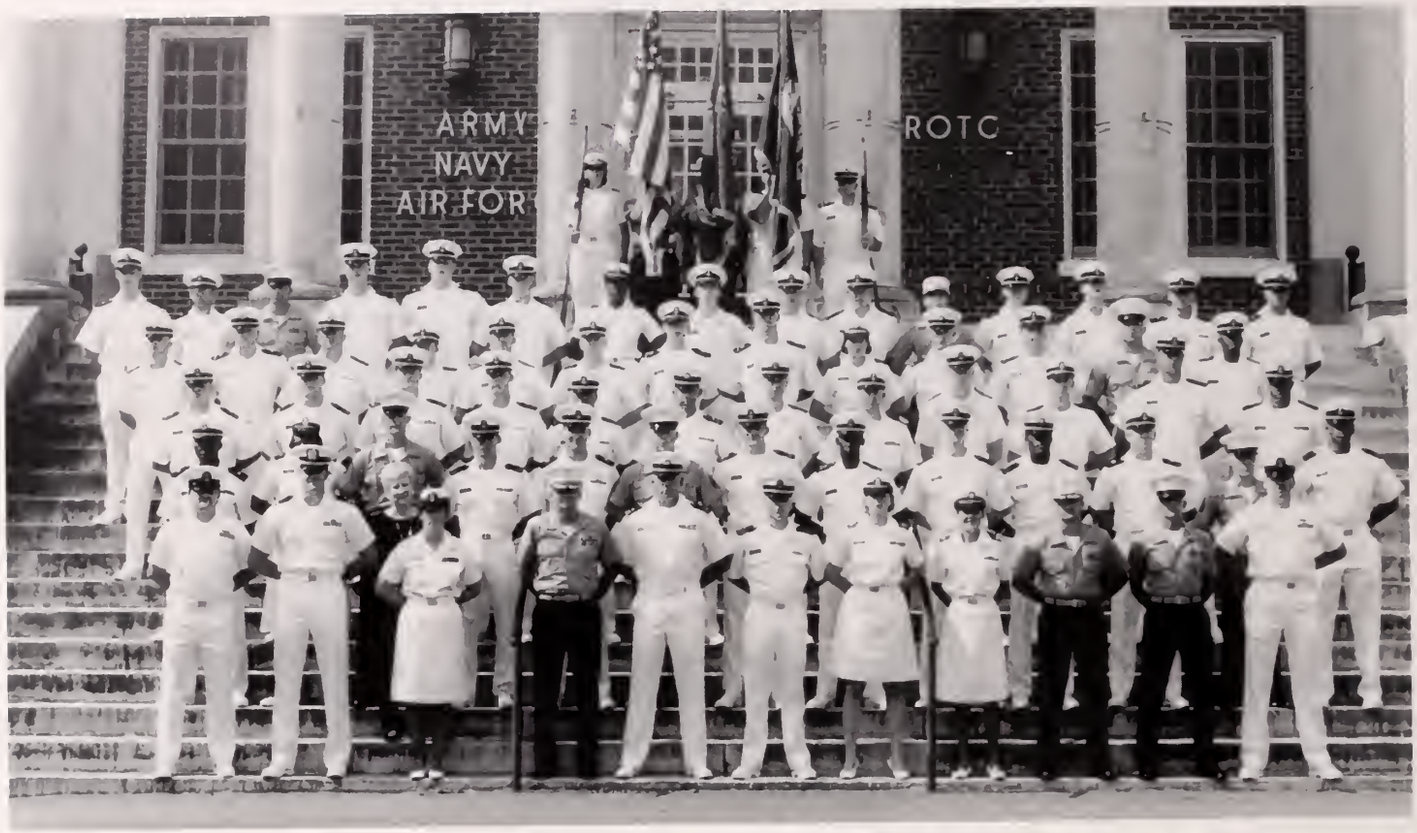

These represent just a few of the workshops held during the 1994-95 school term. Some of the other activities included: programs geared toward teaching undergraduate students about Law, Pharmacy, and Graduate programs at the University of Mississippi, recruitment and retention of minority students, programs promoting Cultural Awareness, as well as quarterly production of "The Exhibition", our newsletter.

Currently, there are more than 220 African-American students enrolled in the Graduate programs at the university. It is the goal of the BGPSA to facilitate in ensuring that the academic endeavors of its members will culminate in the attainment of advanced degrees.

GREEKS

At the University of Mississippi, Greek organizations play a major role in campus life. Greek sororities and fraternities provide members with the opportunity to interact with peers in a social environment. Community service is a major part of Greek life, too, as Greeks devote much time and energy to the pursuit of helping others. Greeks at Ole Miss have stepped into the role of promoters of cooperation among campus groups. As the University of Mississippi steps towards the twenty-first century, Greeks also progress toward a new era.

The Panhellenic Council is comprised of Greek women representing every sorority on campus. Three members, a chapter president, and two Panhellenic representatives attend biweekly meetings. Panhellenic presides over all NPC and NPHC sororities providing educational programming, campus and community service projects, and coordinating rush week activities. New officers are elected at the end of the fall semester each year.

This year's Panhellenic Council has brought in speakers on such issues as alcohol abuse, eating disorders, and women's health issues. The National Adopt-A-School program with Oxford Jr. High was most successful this year due to a large turnout of greek volunteers wanting to lend their time as tutors and mentors. Panhellenic has provided services to the Lafayette County Schools, United Way, Food Pantry, Clothes Closet, University Museums and The American Heart Association.

Inter Fraternal Council

The Inter Fraternal Council (I.F.C.) serves many different roles at the University of Mississippi. I.F.C. regulates every facet of the Greek system, and makes sure that everything runs smoothly.

The Judicial system is an important part of the I.F.C. It keeps all of the fraternities in check and makes sure that all of the fraternities stay within the guidelines of the I.F.C. constitution. The Vice President of Judicial and Education handles all of these responsibilities. He is also in charge of any programs which may further the excellent scholastic achievement of the university's fraternities.

Vice President of Rush maintains and prepares for the week of Rush. He will be the I.F.C. Official that you will come in contact with most often during your Rush week. On top of those duties he will also be in charge of distributing your blue cards and recommendations to each fraternity.

The Vice President of NPHC is also an important part of our council. He makes sure that all of the NPHC groups are well informed and are aware of all the rules and regulations of I.F.C.

Dues are collected once a semester, and minutes are taken at all of our meetings. All of these duties are handled by our Secretary/Treasurer. He also keeps the accounts in line and types all of the minutes for following meetings.

The Director of Public Relations and Publications informs the board and council of all upcoming events. An added job of his is to put together the Angelia.

Finally we have the President who maintains control over his council and all runs as efficiently as possible. He also runs all of the I.F.C. meetings, and ultimately has the final decision.

The I.F.C. takes on a large range of duties with the Greek system. All of these components make up the Executive Council, who could do little without the Board. The Board is made up of two representatives from each group. This gives everyone an equal say, and maintains a balance with the system.

ΔΓ Anchor Splash

The Delta Gammas raised money to benefit their national philanthropy Sight Conservation and Aid to the Blind during the tenth annual Anchor Splash. Some of the fundraising events included a pool tournament, a pre-splash at Lafayette's, t-shirt sales and several fraternity competitions.

ΑΟΠ Alcatraz

ΑΟΠ Alcatraz took place February 21, 1995 at the ΑΟΠ house. Members of the sorority went and kidnapped the presidents of campus fraternities and sororities. Each chapter posted $40 as "bail" for their president. All proceeds went to benefit ΑΟΠ's national philanthropy, The Arthritis Foundation.

KA Fight Night

Kappa Alpha has sponsored "Fight Night" for the last five years to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy Association. The event has six different weight classes with prizes going to winners in each division. The event also has "grudge" matches where people challenge one another to a fight. "Fight Night" raised over ten thousand dollars for MDA.

ΣN Charity Bowl

Sigma Nu raises money on an annual basis by competing against another fraternity in its annual Charity Bowl football game. The fraternity that bids the highest donation competes against Sigma Nu in the football game. Each fraternity combines efforts in raising money for a particular charity which includes the selling of T-shirts and selling tickets to the game each year.

Miss Black and Gold

Miss Black and Gold ('93-'94) Nikitia Hollingsworth

Following the pageant, Miss Black and Gold ('93-'94) attends the reception in her honor.

Contestants Belinda Moore, Tracey Townes and Cheryl Pegues congratulate the New Miss Black and Gold — Nikitia Hollingsworth. Alpha Phi Alpha, Inc. sponsors the Miss Black and Gold pageant and the winner also serves as the fraternity's sweetheart. Proceeds are donated to the March of Dimes.

ΦM Pledge Olympics

On October 12, Phi Mu Sorority hosted their 8th annual Pledge Olympics at Village Field. Pledge classes from all sororities and fraternities were invited to participate in field events like a backward egg toss and tug of war. All proceeds from entry fees and T-shirt sales benefitted LeBonheur Children's Hospital in Memphis.

Afro Olympics

The Afro Olympics is part of Greek Week. This event brings the NPHC, NIC and NPC together in a number of events including "Skin the Snake" and the "Three-legged race". The finale to the olympics is a step show combining members of NIC and NPC with NPHC into teams. This event is sponsored by IFC, Greek Life, and Panhellenic, and is coordinated by Terri Hudson.

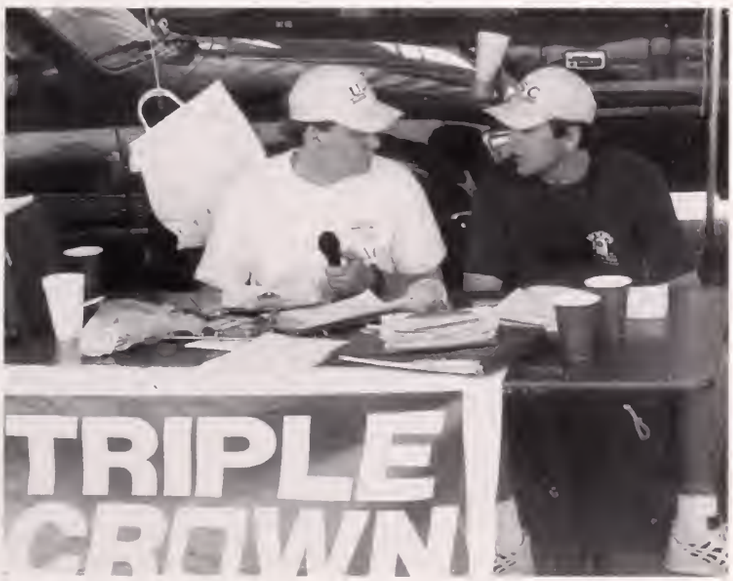

ΦΔΘ Hoops for Kids

Phi Delta Theta has sponsored "Hoops for Kids" for the last four years to raise money for the American Cancer Society. The event consists of a 3-on-3 basketball tournament with prizes going to the winners in each division. Other activities include a sports auction, dunk contest, calutia and other events. "Hoops for Kids" has raised over thirty thousand dollars to build a Childrens' Cancer Camp.

Rebel baseball is a fun way to spend a Saturday because our team always puts on a show of strength.

Flying high against the gators, Lady Reb #33 gives it her all.

SPORTS

Under the leadership of first-year athletic director Pete Boone, a new era in Ole Miss athletics has begun. The sports spectrum has been broadened with the first SEC Lacrosse and women's soccer teams in our university's history. Although the Ole Miss Rebel football team faced a dismal season under NCAA probation, head coach Tommy Tuberville (in his first year at the University of Mlssissippi) kept team morale high by providing outstanding leadership. The 1995-96 school year saw a great progress in the Ole Miss athletic program.

The Tuberville Era Begins . . .

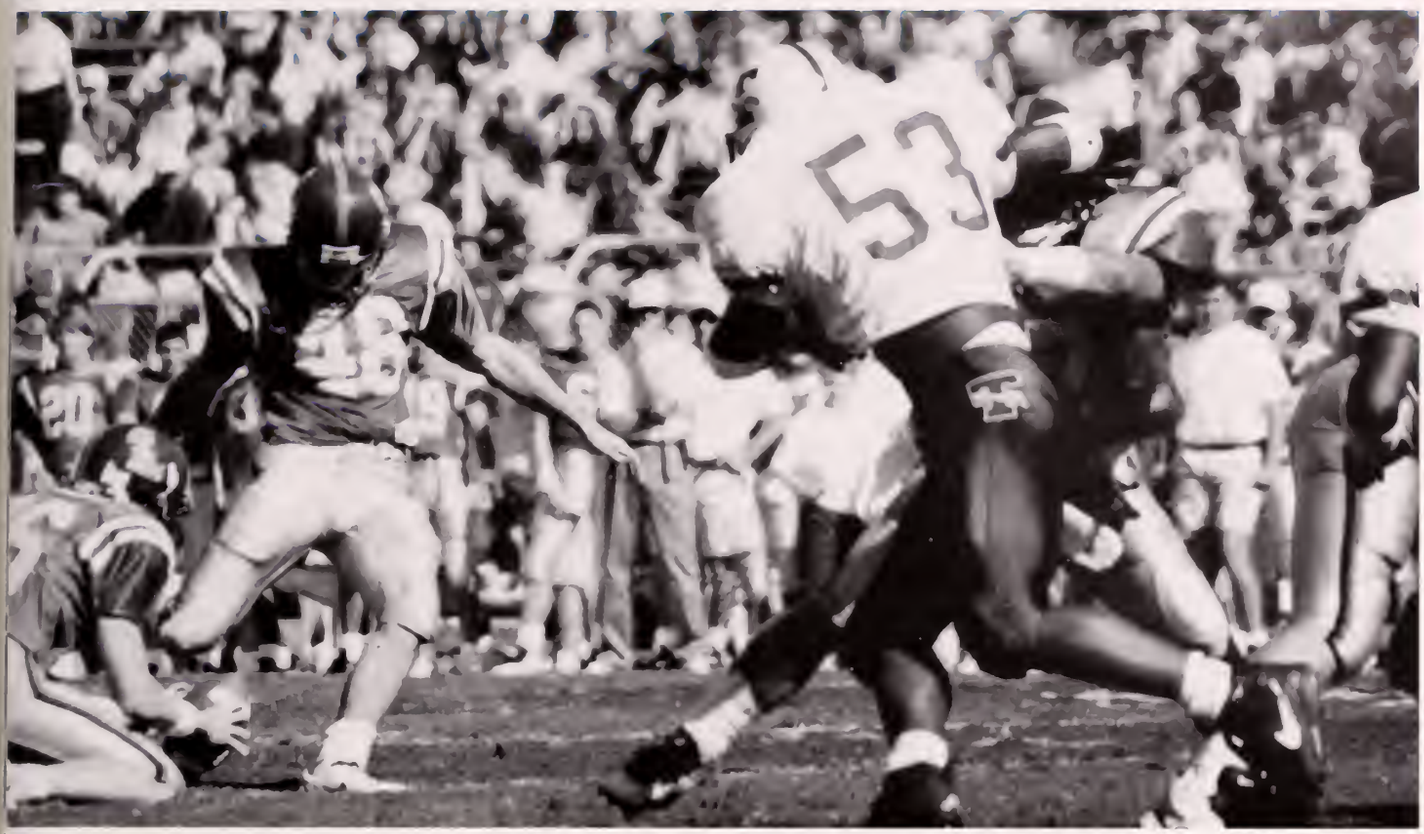

In the spirit of the season, the Ole Miss 12th Man bolts back to the inside for a large gain for the Rebels.

At the beginning of the 1995 Ole Miss football season, expectations were not very high for the rebuilding program. The team was beginning a four-year probation in which scholarships were cut from 23 to 13, and was under the leadership of a new head coach, Tommy Tuberville. However, the Rebels soon silenced the critics and surprised most of their fans with a powerful running game and a defense which was among the toughest in the nation. The new Twelfth Man program brought the fans closer to the team, as two walk-on "twelfth men" were selected from members of the student body who tried out for the team in the spring. Although most predicted a weaker season than 1994, the Rebels finished 1995 with a winning record of 6-5, a two-game improvement upon the previous season. Of th six wins, three were against SEC opponent Georgia, Vanderbilt, and Mississippi State. A a perfect conclusion to the winning season Ole Miss defeated State in the annual Eg Bowl, 13-10, in Starkville, to reclaim the Gold en Egg trophy. Running back Dou Innocent se an Ole Miss single-game rushing record wit 242 yards in the game, while wide receive LeMay Thomas established the new Rebel re ceptions record for a single season. Althoug 25 seniors are departing the team, Coach Tu berville and the rest of the Rebels are hopin for an even better season next year, and t keep the Golden Egg at the University of Mis sissippi.

SOCCER

The New Team in Town

1995 marked the year of the first women's soccer team at Ole Miss. Consisting of eleven freshmen and three transfers, the team surprised many with its veteran-like play. Junior Sarah Comeaux, the leading scorer in the SEC, and freshman Leah Rutledge, SEC assists leader, led the Rebels' offensive attack, while the young, aggressive defense quickly established itself as a powerful force. Despite several injuries, the team expects an even more successful season next year, as all fourteen members of this year's team will return. Truly, the Ole Miss women's soccer team has set the foundation for a winning future.

The 1995 season for the Ole Miss Rebel baseball team was filled with heavy hitting, outstanding pitching, and 40 thrilling victories. It was concluded with the Rebels' first trip to an NCAA regional tournament in over two decades. In Tallahassee, the site of the regional, the Rebs lost to eventual-champion Florida State, but they had more than made a bold statement about the strength of the team. The Ole Miss baseball team had come full circle, and are looking forward to another successful season.

RUGBY

Founded in 1973, the Ole Miss rugby team is well into its twenty-third year on the Oxford campus. Rugby, created in Rugby, England in 1823, is a full-contact sport with no protection outside of strength and speed. The Ole Miss Rugby Club is sponsored by the university and plays in the Mid-South Rugby Football Union. In the fall and spring seasons, the team enjoyed victories over the University of Memphis, Jackson, Mississippi State, and Arkansas State. The Rugby Club appreciated the leadership of Welsh graduate student Roger Gould, who served as the team's first coach in twelve years. The team loses four senior leaders in Nate Parkin, Shane Johnson, Ben Brase, and player/ assistant coach Hal Mayo. The twenty-three years of service and survival displayed by the Ole Miss Rugby Club are a great foundation for a future of fierce men and fighting spirit.

LACROSSE

Lacrosse has finally arrived in Oxford, Mississippi. After a late start in the spring of 1995, the Ole Miss lacrosse team, officially sponsored by the University, became a member of the Southeastern Lacrosse Conference in the fall of 1995. Last spring the young team faced the experienced Buzzard Lacrosse, Nashville, Chattanooga, and Rhodes College teams. The shortened season ended with the team at even par. With an early start this fall, the team hopes to be more organized and better prepared for the talented teams it will face in the spring. The team only lost two players from last year's inaugural team, while gaining, through extensive recruiting, twenty-five new players. The Ole Miss lacrosse team will face a grueling road schedule in the spring, but is hoping for great fan support at all home games.

REBELETTES

The Ole Miss Rebelettes, the official dance/ pom pon squad, under the auspices of the "Pride of the South" marching band, entertains at home football games throughout the season, as well as at other university functions. The Rebelettes have a long history of association with the Ole Miss band, and are today ranked as one of the top twelve college dance teams in the nation. The squad practices approximately fifteen hours a week, while also maintaining prescribed levels of physical fitness through weight training and aerobic workouts. Under the capable direction of Cheryl Cannon, assistant Martha Smith, and fitness trainer Laurie Campbell, this year's squad is comprised of twenty girls from throughout the Southeast.

RANGER CHALLENGE

1995 Ole Miss Ranger Challenge Team

Ranger Challenge is the varsity sport of Army ROTC. It is designed to develop cadets' practical military and small unit leadership skills as well as enhance esprit-de-corps within the Rebel Battalion. The cadets compete in a series of mentally and physically strenuous events: the Army Physical Fitness Test, Grenade Assault Course, Basic Rifle Marksmanship, M16 and M60 weapons assembly, a timed one-rope bridge assembly and crossing, and a timed 10-kilometer forced march.

On October 3, 1995, the long running, real life soap opera played its final episode.

In "the trial of the century," O.J. Simpson was acquitted in the June 12, 1994, stabbing murder of his former wife, Nicole Brown Simpson, and her friend, Ronald Goldman.

Americans followed the trial for more than a year, listening to testimony, digesting the evidence and speculating on whether the former football superstar and film actor was guilty.

The jury reached its verdict in less than four hours deliberation, after listening to 133 days of testimony and considering more than 800 pieces of evidence.

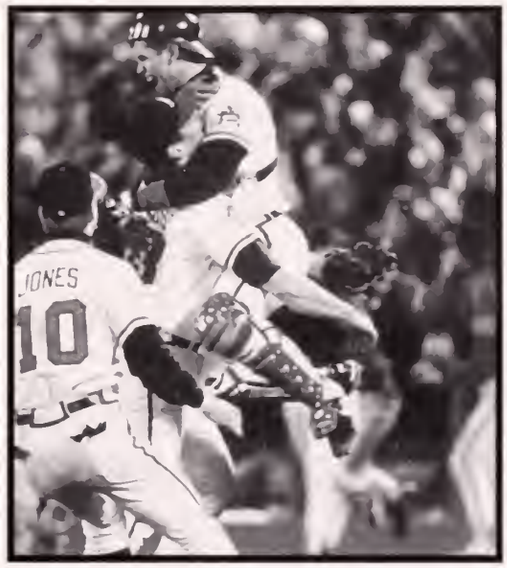

It was a case that would leave Americans with many lasting images:

— A white Ford Bronco leading a police chase,

— Simpson trying on "the murder gloves" in court,

— The testimony of prosecution witness Police Detective Mark Fuhrman, whose credibility was later destroyed when it was shown that he lied under oath about his use of racial epithets.

In a statement made soon after his acquittal, Simpson vowed he would dedicate his life to a search for the real killers.

Braves win the Series

Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians and the Atlanta Braves squared off in the first World Series in two years. This was, perhaps, the first between teams with politically incorrect nicknames.

The hard-hitting Indians compiled a lofty team batting average of .291 for the season, while the Braves pitching staff, led by Greg Maddux (19-2), was widely acknowledged to be the game's best.

It was a Series of the bats vs. the arms. And in the end, the arms were held aloft in triumph.

The Braves won the Series in six games, after taking a two-games-to-none lead in their home park. They won the Series on their return to Atlanta with a 1 - 0 victory marked by David Justice's home run and the one-hit pitching of Tom Glavine, who was named Series MVP.

Khayat hired as 25th Chancellor of Ole Miss

Chancellor Khayat dove into his new position with enthusiasm and began the year with many positive changes. Although he took over his position in the beginning of 1995, he postponed his inauguration until April 11, 1996.

Step towards peace in the West Bank

"The sight you see before you ... was impossible, was unthinkable, just three years ago," Israel's Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin told those present at the East Room of the White House.

Associated Press

"The sight you see before you...was impossible, was unthinkable, just three years ago," Israel's Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin told those present at the East Room of the White House.

The "sight" was the September 28, 1995, signing of an accord between Israel and the PLO that would end Israel's military occupation of the West Bank cities and lay the foundation for a Palestinian state.

President Clinton presided over the ceremony which featured two hours of speeches and pageantry before an audience of diplomats, foreign ministers, Cabinet secretaries and members of Congress.

The agreement outlines the process for gradual withdrawal of Israeli troops and transfer of governing authority for Palestinian self-rule in 30 percent of the West Bank. It also allows for Palestinian elections and the release of 5,000 Palestinian prisoners being held by Israel.

Editor's note: On November 4, 1995, less than two months after the signing of the agreement, Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin was assassinated by a Jewish extremist in Israel.

It was a match between two players vying for the top position in women's tennis. On September 9, 1995, Germany's Steffi Graf emerged as #1 as she beat Monica Seles in New York to win her fourth U.S. Open title.

"Nothing has ever come close to this one. I had a lot of [illegible] to match [illegible]," said Graf, who played with a [illegible] on one foot.

Instead of her defeat on the tennis court, Monica Seles [illegible] This loss was the first in a [illegible] for her inspired return to the [illegible] Seles had been stabbed in [illegible] a match in Hamburg.

"[illegible] playing again," Seles [illegible] that is what is going

Ice Storm of 1996 closes school for three days!

McVeigh breaks the heart of America

Associated Press

On April 19, 1995, a car bomb exploded in Oklahoma City (OK), destroying the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building and killing scores of men, women and young children.

The force of the blast tore off the building's facade and sent it flying 50 feet across the street, where it slammed into another building and came to rest in the parking lot. With the outer wall of the building suddenly gone, workers tumbled out of their offices and into the street where the blast had carved a crater 30 feet wide.

Shortly after the explosion, Timothy McVeigh, a Gulf War veteran was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon. Two days later, he was recognized as one of the bombing suspects and was charged.

McVeigh's trial is pending.

Waiting to Exhale

Associated Press

President Bill Clinton entered the third year of his term as no president has done in 40 years — with a Republican Congress. As he beagan this new year, he resolved to "put aside partisan differences."

In April 1995, the Senate passed a bill that cut $16 billion from various social programs while sparing other items favored by Clinton. Although the President called the bill "the model of how we can work together," the gap remaining wide over such issues as tax cuts, welfare reform and spending reductions.

Although cautious in dealing with the new Congress, Clinton has raised his profile and taken a firm stand on issues. He said he would try to work with the Republicans on their agenda, but would "no doubt" veto some of their proposals.

On April 14, 1995, Clinton filed the necessary documents with Federal Election Commission and made formal his candidacy for re-election.

No-Nonsense Newt

In January 1995, Newt Gingrich became the first Republican Speaker of the House in 40 years. The 51-year-old Georgia Congressman had his sights set on this position even before he won a House seat on his third try in 1976.

Gingrich, narrowly elected as minority whip in 1989, saw his goal in reach when the GOP won a majority of Congressional seats in 1994 and [illegible] Robert Michel declined to run for another [illegible].

[illegible] Gingrich stays in grabbing headlines and preaching [illegible] Jim Wright from office with [illegible]

In 1994, he alleged that one quarter of the White House staff had recently used drugs, a charge that remains unsubstantiated.

Gingrich helped orchestrate the "Contract With America" as the GOP's national agenda in the 1994 election. It called for a balanced budget ammendment, welfare reform and an anti crime package.

Gingrich has been a major factor in forcing the government into two major shut downs during the 1995 holiday season. Continuing to head butt with President Clinton, it took until nearly February of 1996 to begin to speak of a compromise.

Uniting in an effort to save the masses.

Associated Press

The gathering in Washington, D.C. on October 16, 1995, was tremendous. Hundreds of thousands of African-American men converged on the nation's capital in response to the call from Louis Farrakhan, the Nation of Islam's leader, to rally for unity for brotherhood.

It was the fourth-largest demonstration in Washington's history, and tenth largest predominately African-American gathering.

There were dozens of speakers, including civil right veterans Rosa Parks, Dick Gregory and the Reverend Jesse Jackson. Stevie Wonder sang, and Maya Angelou read a poem that urged the men to do right by themselves and "save your race."

The rally's climax was Farrakhan's speech in which he led the men in a pledge to "never raise my hand with a knife or gun to beat, cut or shoot...any human being." He urged the rally to join organizations, gain political control, fight racism and rid their neighborhoods of crime, drugs and violence.

For a few days, a religous man dominated the headlines. And for a change, it gave Americans something good to talk about.

The newsmaker was Pope John Paul II, and the occasion was his visit to the United States in early October 1995.

The Pope kicked off his visit by addressing the United Nations General Assembly in conjunction with the organization's 50th anniversary. He then went on to celebrate outdoor Mass in New York and New Jersey, address an audience at the baseball stadium in Baltimore and lunched at a soup kitchen.

Throughout his visit, the pope called for greater attention to the needs of the less fortunate.

Hootie!!

Associated Press

This summer it seemed as though Hootie and the Blowfish were playing every time you turned on the radio.

The four-man rock group that seemed to come out of nowhere and dominate the audio scene did not go unnoticed on the video screen. Hootie, featuring vocals by lead singer Darius Rucker, won an MTV award for best new artist for their video, "Hold My Hand." The presentation was made at the 12th annual MTV Video Music Awards held in September 1995 at Radio City Music Hall in New York.

Dennis Miller hosted the ceremony, which included awards to Tom Petty for best male vidoe, "You Don't Know How It Feels," and Madonna for best female video, "Take A Bow."

TLC won video of the year for "Waterfalls," a cautionary AIDS song.

While presenting the best rap video award to Dr. Dre, Madonna lashed out at a Republican presidential candidate Bob Dole for his previous criticism of the violent, sexist lyrics of some rap records.

Biggest winners of the night: TLC and Weezer, each of whom had to make room on their mantels for four awards.

"Why do you want to be president?" asked the TV host.

"Every country needs a president," replied Republican Senator Bob Dole.

In April 1995 the Kansas Senator became the sixth Republican to formally declare his candidacy for a move into the White House in 1996.

This is the third presidential attempt for Dole, who [illegible] early exit in Republican primaries in 1980 and 1988. His intention is to cut taxes, balance the budget and [illegible] America back into her place in the sun."

Dole began his political career in 1951, serving in the Kansas legislature. He served in the House of Representatives from 1961 through 1969 and has been a Senator [illegible].

Nuclear testing has the world up in arms

Associated Press

On September 5, 1995 France resumed underground nuclear testing when it detonated a device under a remote atoll in the South Pacific.

Worldwide protests preceded the nuclear test, and criticism from the world followed it.

Anti nuclear demonstration were staged in various parts of the world, including Paris, Tokyo, Switzerland, Australia, and Hiroshima. France's President Jacques Chirac defended the tests, saying they would provide information allowing France to conduct computer simulated tests in the future. Chirac also said that more tests were planned, but that France would sign a global test ban treaty at their conclusion.

Many in America mourned the passing of Jerry Garcia, leader of the Grateful Dead, on August 9, 1995, just eight days after his 53rd birthday.

Hurrican Opal devestates the Gulf Coast

Associated Press

On the evening of October 4, 1995, Hurricane Opal came ashore on Florida's Gulf Coast, packing sustained winds of 125 miles per hour. Before it was through, the storm had killed at least 20 people in four states and caused at least $1.8 billion in damages to insured properties, making it the third costliest storm in U.S. History.

Hurricane Opal swung east toward Florida after striking Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The storm destroyed or damaged thousands of homes and businesses along a 120-mile stretch of the Florida Panhandle. Many of its residents were still recovering from and repairing damage inflicted by Hurricane Erin two months earlier.

Opal caused the sea to rise 15 feet sweep away nearly everything on the lower floors of homes and businesses along the edge of the Gulf Coast. Power outages were widespread, and there were many incidents of looting.

Some of the hurricane's victims were allowed to return home a week after fleeing, even though water, electricity and sewer services had not been restored. Others, from more severely damaged areas, had to wait longer.

Americans rejoice in the release of Harry Wu, a human rights activist who was convicted of stealing states secrets due to [illegible] across the border to film evidence of abuses in China's prison labor camps.

Hillary takes on the world

Associated Press

It was Hillary Clinton's first visit to China, and she made it a memorable one. In a speech to the United Nation's Fourth World Conference on Women, the first lady took on the world.

Her speech, delivered on September 5, 1995, made a call for human rights and freedom of expression, and she said that it was indefensible that many women who registered for the conference were denied visas or were unable to fully participate.

Mrs. CLinton surprised her audience and the host nation by rebuking Beijing for its treatment of private activists who said they were harrassed by authorities during a parallel forum held in Huairou, China, just 30 miles away.

The conference platform called for measures to alleviate women's poverty, and improve health care, job opportunities and education.

Construction comes to a close on the library... finally.

Ripken hits 2,131 to beat Gehrig's long-standing record

Associated Press

For months, baseball fans were talking about The Streak.

With each game he played, Baltimore Orioles shortstop Cal Ripken, Jr., drew one game closer to breaking one of baseball's "unbreakable" records.

In 1939, Yankee first-baseman Lou Gehrig retired after having appeared in 2,130 coonsecutive games, an accomplishment that surely would never be equalled.

In 1995, Ripken not only equalled it — he surpassed it!

On September 6, 1995, Ripken took the field, as he had done in every Orioles game since May 30, 1982, to play against the California Angels. This was consecutive game 2,131 — but not until the fifth inning, when baseball games become official.

When the fifth inning came, fireworks exploded and cameras flashed, as 10-footbanners bearing "2-1-3-1" were unfurled in the outfield stands of Baltimore's Camden Yards.

The fans stood and cheered for Ripken, who emerged from his dugout and gave his jersey to his wife and two children. His teammates pushed the reluctant Ripken back out onto the field where he made a "thank you" lap around thte ballpark, shaking hands with the fans. The ovation lasted 22 minutes.

Defining a hero, Ripken hit a home run in the game won by the Orioles 4-

Amtrak crash injures many in Arizona

Associated Press

The news was terrible: an Amtrak train derailed while crossing a trestle in a remote desert region of Arizona, 55 miles southwest of Phoenix.

What made the news even worse was the suspicion of sabatoge.

Occuring around 1 a.m. on October 9, 1995, the derailment of Amtrak's Sunset Limited, en route from Miami to Los Angeles, sent four of its cars into the gulch 30 feet below the trestle. One person was killed and more than 70 were injured.

The derailment was caused by the removal of a metal bar that held two sections of a rail together. The culprit installed a wire, disabling a light that would have warned the train's crew about the break. The saboteur's apparent knowledge about the warning system led to speculation that it might be the work of a railroad employee.

Found at the scene was a letter that made reference to the federal sieges at Waco, Texas, and Ruby Ridge, Idaho, and also mentioned the FBI and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. It was signed "Sons of Gestapo."

The letter raised fears that the derailment was the work of anti-government terrorists, although experst in the field were unfamiliar with the signature.

Peace in Bosnia?

Associated Press

Despite continued NATO air strikes and U.N. peace efforts, the conflict in the former Yugoslavia rages on, with no letup in sight. 1995 began with a four month ceasefire mediated by former United States President Jimmy Carter, but the truce didn't put an end to the fighting.

The former Yugoslavia has been the scene of civil war since June 1991, and the fighting intensified in 1992 after the republic of Bosnia-Herzegovina declared its independence.

Bosnian Serbs, seeking independence from Bosnia, began their siege of the capital, Sarajevo, as the European community and the United States formally recognized Bosnia. More than 200,000 people have been killed or are missing since the fighting began.

In May 1995, NATO planes attacked Serb ammunition depots. The Serbs responded by attacking "safe areas," killing many and taking hundreds of U.N. peacekeeper hostages.

In June, Serbs downed a U.S. F-16 over northern Bosnia. The pilot, Air Force Captain Scott O'Grady, hid for six days until he was rescued by U.S. Marines.

The conflict and the peace talks continue.

Just before the Christmas holidays, President Clinton announced that the U.S. would be sending its troops over to "keep the peace."

Powell hits the road

Associated Press

In September, 1995, Colin Powell embarked on a cross-country book tour to promote his autobiography, "My American Journey." As he did this, he also promoted the motion that his next journey might be along the campaign trail, seeking the presidency of the United States in 1996.

Powell, 58 years old, is the former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the first African-American person to hold that position. He rose to fame through his leadership in the Persian Gulf war.

The views expressed by Powell seem to leave him out of either mainstream Republicans or Democrats. In his book, he asserts his belief in free enterprise and lower taxes, and says that he is put off by "patronizing liberals." He does, however, support women's rights, gun control and was alarmed by a "troubling mix of politics and religion" at the 1992 Republican convention.

He sees himself as the "sensible center of the American political spectrum," declaring no allegiance to any political party.

Riding High: The ice storm of 1994 offered a nice little holiday in late January. This time off gave students plenty of time to sleigh ride. Another popular place to visit was the Baptist Memorial Hospital for the occasional sleighing accident.

Vogue: Oxford librarians Ms. Fitts, Jennifer Bushong and Ms. Latham offer extra library service to students and other Oxford residents.

Hot Shots: Anthony Boone of the Ole Miss Rebel Basketball team plays hard against the Arkansas Razorbacks with a crowd of spectators cheering him on.

A world of change

The 1990's has been a time of tremendous change. With the explosion of the internet, peace talks that would have been impossible even a few years ago now taking place, and the up-in-the-air state of just about everything - the world is a shrinking, crazy place. Our immediate future is a time of incredible knowledge and a touch of fear. The job market is unstable, downsizing and a flux of too many workers making a job a very valuable commodity.

With all of the craziness of the "outside world", Ole Miss has become an even greater haven. She seeks to shelter us from the greatest of the evils while she seeks to give us the strength, knowledge, flexibility and experience that every student needs to survive and flourish in a quickly changing world. Those who are graduating need to hold on to all that you have learned at Ole Miss and carry it with you to offer your brilliance to this world. Those who have a little while to go, relish the time and opportunities that Ole Miss provides to each of her students.

Election Races: Student participation in ASB elections is at an all time low. These students take time out to vote and help make a change.

Bad To The Bone: These serions fellows joined forces at a football game to "keep an eye on things."

Spring Breezes: The Grove provides a quiet, beautiful surroundlng for students to eat, study or just visit with friends.

Worth Remembering

What was the most memorable event of the 1995-96 school year for you?

"Marching through the Lyceum...Getting new uniforms," said Jennifer Bounds, a junior band member.

Justin Loughram, a senior in journalism, said that the most memorable thing to him was "...seeing Widespread Panic in Tad Smith."

"I gave myself a trip to England and Scotland for Christmas," said Jameson Moreau, a senior public relations major.

A freshman english major, Angela Essary said that most memorable to her were "The people that I've met."

Y-M-C-A: Dusty Thompson, Director of Pageants for Ole Miss, likes to have fun. During the annual yearbook trip to Dallas to design the cover, Dusty and the rest of the annual staff took a little time out to relieve the stress of the daily meetings by dancing in the club Alley Cat.

Shh...: The newly renovated library on campus offers a bright, comfortable place for students to study.

Wish you could forget

What's the worst thing that you remember about this year?

"Classes on a rainy day," said Karen Otten, a freshman in education.

Joe Presley, a graduate student in music education, said, "I didn't get to see my girlfriend for five months."

"My car being towed," said Rolanda Brown, a junior in broadcast journalism.

"The bus almost tipping over on the LSU (band) trip," was Bill DeJournett's worst memory. Bill is a gradute student in music education.

"I got a D in one of my classes," said Justin Loughram, a senior in journalism.

"I got sued by my landlord," said Will Haraway, a senior in english and broadcast journlism.

Jason Brown said that his worst memory was "..mopping the hallway at two in the morning...with an 8:00 class. Jason is an RA at Kincannon who is majoring in Business.

Crazy!!: A couple of Student Media Center workers release a little of life's day to day stress.

Duel: These two fellows could be found fencing outside of the Union. Watch your step!

After the Party: These students lend a hand in keeping Ole Miss beautiful.

Wohoo!: Sleigh riding was the sport of choice during the 1994 ice storm.

Well, it looks as if we made it through another year, finally!!! The last two years as editor have been an interesting time to say the least, and I have to say I am thankful for the opportunity but I'm glad that it's over.

I believe that the people at this university are some of the finest in the world and I'm lucky to have worked with many of them. The first group I would like to mention would be the Student Media Center. The Daily Mississippian, Rebel Radio, Channel-12 and advertising, not to mention all the faculty, were always right there to do whatever they could for the annual — Thank you for your support! Another fine group that never seemed to tire of helping us were the people in the Lyceum. From the Registrar to the Chancellor, everyone that I talked to was willing to take time out of their busy schedules to listen and lend a hand. Alumni Affairs — thank you for having a treasure trove of pictures; University Archives — thank you for allowing us the access to Ole Miss yearbook history, and Angela — thank you for willingly making the trek to dig through all of that information.

The main group I'm glad I got to work with was the staff of the 1996 annual. You guys are quite a mix!! Thank you for meeting your deadlines, busting your butts, being patient and for all the humor. Special thanks to Amy for taking over student life when that section editor flaked, and to Laura Moore for doing all of the artwork in the Greeks section. Thanks to the work studies — Angela, Jeremy and Kevin — you guys did the thankless work that keeps everything running so smoothly. Traci — thank you for all of your time, guidance, and patience — it has been a very interesting two years. Dolores — thank you for your terrific ideas and thank you for working with us to make an even better cover than last year. Ben — thank you for the last few years and thanks to Janey for always being there to answer questions.

Finally, I've saved the best for last... Jennifer, wow, it's over. I would get mushy but I'm too excited. Good luck in Alabama and thank you for the three and a half years of craziness! The rest of my friends, I love you guys and I'll always remember you! Mike, I don't know what to say that I haven't told you a million times — I love you and thank you for being my shoulder this past year or so! To my family, do you believe it?! I love you guys and I know that without your love and support there is no way I would have survived. I love you and I know that nothing in this world will ever be as special to me as you all are! Thank God for everything!

Well, its over, the year and my time at Ole Miss. Both have been full of good times and good friends. I look foward with mixed emotions, on one hand I am going to miss this place but I can't wait to get out in the real world. Working with the yearbook has brought me in contact with many people here at Ole Miss and many others. It has also introduced me to new ideas and ways of doing things. I will always look back at this time in my life and remember the friends and fun that I had with yearbook.

There are many people I need to thank along the way so I'll start with the work studies. Angela — Good luck to you next year, you're going to need it. Jeremy and Kevin — thank you for all your hard work and long hours. Good Luck to Amy next year, I am sure you will do fine. Thank you to all the photographers for going to the strange places that I sent you to take pictures. Thanks to Shawn Jenkins and Brooke Beard for helping with all the odds and ends. Thanks to Photo Sevices and Photo Tech for getting our pictures to us. Next I would like to thank Traci Mitchell for all of her support and help in the past two years. Next, I would like to tell Missy, Trish, Erika, and Tammy how much fun I have had with them and how much I'm going to miss them. To Dusty your part in this book can not be forgotten soon enough. To Alissa and Erin,my friends at home, who listened to me go on about yearbook, thanks. To Jonna, I would like to say that the past three and a half years have been lots of fun and I could not ask for a better friend and to remember the good 'ole days of waft and swirl. Lastly, I would have to thank my family. They have helped me through the good times and the bad. I also want to congratulate my brother, James, and his new wife, Holly. I wish them all the luck in the world.

Goodbye Ole Miss, Hello World!

Jennifer

In Memorium

Melinda Sue "Mindy" Carlson
Edina, Minnesota

Hailey Elizabeth Estes
Natchez, Mississippi

On March 7, 1996, a tragedy claimed the lives of two members of the Ole Miss family. Melinda Sue Carlson and Hailey Elizabeth Estes, freshmen Delta Gamma sorority sisters, will forever be remembered for their involvement with the Basketball Pom Squad and throughout the university. Their time at Ole Miss was short but their spirit and high ideals will remain an inspiration for all who knew them and know of them.

The Road Not Taken

Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;
Then took the other, just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,
And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back
I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I-
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

The 1995 Ole Miss was printed by Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas and produced by a staff of volunteers with no direct affiliation with the university department of journalism. Distribution is in the spring and full-time students pay for their book through the activity fee.

Production: The Ole Miss was produced on three computers using UltraVision software which was designed by Taylor Publishing Company. The press run was 6500.

Cover & Endsheets: The original cover and endsheets were designed by Jonna Jones with the assistance of Taylor Publishing Company artist Delores Lamkin. The base material of the cover is white #998, with an embossed design and applied colors of Blue #360 and red #804. The cover is in a Cordova grain and contains gold foil stamping. Endsheets were printed on 88 Navy paper with an 8FS Gold foil stamp.

Type: The main typeface used throughout the book was Fenice.

Photography: Class photos were taken by Thornton Studios of New York. All other photos were taken by Ole Miss students using black & white T-Max, Tri-X and Kodak Gold color. Developing was done by Thornton studios and Ole Miss staff members.

Budget: The total operating budget was $167,111. $30,000 of the income is from Greeks, organization and homecomings. $131,742 came from students through a portion of their activity fee and $5,369 came from book sales.
